Drift

I drift away,
away from you,
cause I was so busy with myself, the only one I've cared was me, I was so blind, would I find a way back to you, would you take me back, would you still know me, or did we became strangers, is there still something between us, are we the same like yesterday?
I feel like drifting away, do we really live in the same world?
or do I live in mine and you in yours, would I find a way back on your course, would I be the person you used to know, or just someone you don't know?
like a person you've never seen before, would you let me in
when I'm knocking at your door,
would you let me in?

I was so busy with myself,
now I drift away, away from you,
I was so busy with myself,
now I can't find a way, a way back to you.

I'm drifting away would I find a way back?
so many things changed, everything is strange now, two people different point of view, we used to walk together, now we are like two different pairs of shoes, we used to talk together now we ain't got something to say and all because I'm drifting away, I drift away from where I used to stay, would you take me back, if I come back someday?
or would you lock the door, would it be like it was before?
before I decided to go, would you be the person I used to know, or just someone I don't know, like a person I've never seen before,
would you let me in
when I'm knocking at your door,
would you let me in?

I was so busy with myself,
now I drift away, away from you,
I was so busy with myself,
now I can't find a way, a way back to you.

I... I!

I was so busy with myself now I drift away, away from you,
I was so busy with my self now I can't find a way,

a way back to you, a way back to you

I was so busy with myself,
now I drift away, away from you,
I was so busy with myself,
now I can't find a way, a way back to you.

back – back to you,
back to you,
back to you –
I drift away,
back – back to you,
back to you,
back to you –
I drift away
