

Sometimes

.sPout.

sometimes - life isn't like it should be because this life - is a mystery like to go on a journey - with no destination we don 't know - where we have to go sometimes - life is like a "one-way track" - with no way back l ike to go one step forward and two steps back like a crossroad but which way should I take? just like a neverending headache a neverending night no break of day I try to speak - but I've no thing to say I try to find a place to chill but there is no pla ce to stay I feel like walking on one hand sometimes - life is like something is missing this life often h as no reason for living sometimes - life is like a deep wound j ust like a deep wound

(chorus) sometimes life isn't like it should be - this life is a mystery

the life we live - is a life with no cheats no rules how to get through it's just on us - what we do or not use the things we got - or let the life go by lying on the ground and asking why but this is how life could be sometimes up - and sometimes down I feel like to hang between the sky and ground

sometimes - life is like something is missing this life often h as no reason for living sometimes - life is like a deep wound j ust like a deep wound

(chorus)

this life is a mystery this life is a mystery this life is a my stery this life is a fucking mystery

the life we live - is a life with no cheats no rules how to get through it's just on us - what we do the only thing that we ca n do is to watch our life - when we go through it's the only th ing that we can do

I raise up like the sun and the moon bring my rhymes to the gam e - like gas to a balloon - till it burst I cannot live my life
- first no matter how it is sometimes like that sometimes like this but one thing I know life is like it is

(chorus)
