

Beg

SPRINTS

All that is over. All that is over
There are words I can not speak of, and all that is over
I could never keep a promise I made
I could always find a heart to break
I could never keep a promise I made
I could never find myself in mistakes

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun. The sun
Let me face towards the sun. All that is over

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun
Forgive my rights, commit my wrongs
For I am the only son

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun
Forgive my rights, commit my wrongs
For I am the only

Once more the storm is rising, in the rattle of the wind
I can see the pain, the gluttony and my original sin
There's water in the well of youth, and a man seeks the spring
The skull it has dreamed your eyes, and I abandoned everything

There's water in the well of youth, and I desperately drink
Who's that dancing, turn me inside out
See me dancing, turn me inside out

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun
Forgive my rights, commit my wrongs
For I am the only son

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun
Forgive my rights, commit my wrongs
For I am the only

All that is over
All that is over
All that is over
All that is over

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun
Forgive my rights, commit my wrongs
For I am the only son

Let me beg, let me come
Let me face towards the sun
Forgive my rights, commit my wrongs
For I am the only
Son
