Everything

Squeeze

We sat together and watched the rain
Like lonely people on the streets
Our love could never be the same
All that's left of us is dreams

And how we are is all
A par of where we've been
A slice of everyday
A piece of everything
Everything, everything

We walked together down empty paths
In search of love with hope and faith
And later watched the skies for stars
But still it all turned out in vain

I feel the pressure rise as chaos punches deep
The debris of my life will never let me sleep
Let me sleep, let me sleep

What makes me happy, I wish I knew
I search for peace to fill my soul
And when I've hurt the ones I love
I dig myself a deeper hole

A simple life for me
Is always in my prayers
Will darkness let me be
While light shines everywhere
Everywhere, everywhere
Everywhere, everywhere
