

Focus and you will find it
Focus and you will find it
It can be so amazing
It can be so amazing
But life here's getting dull
And I don't know how to pass my days anymore

Lie down in the nighttime
Rise up in the dawn
Breathe in the morning
Saw your blue car leaving
To cross the bridge
To the dirt dust waiting
Filtered through past
Seasons changing

And if I get caught there
Will the color of the earth change?
You crossed a line in the morning
All six foot two shaking
And your diamond arms
Wrapped around me in a new way
Nothing could stop me
Stop me from leaving
And I wailed the whole rest of the weekend

Wrapped up in the nighttime
Walking home through the lightning bugs
Tornado came right down with no forewarning
And carried me up to the constellation
I'll never get that howling sound out of my ears

I looked down on where I lived
All those years

And I know the worst
I know the worst is yet to come

And I know the worst
I know the worst is yet to come
And I'm staying up
I'm staying up
I'm staying up
I'm staying up
I'm staying up all night
I'm staying up all night
To wrestle with it
The good and the bad
