Ah Tokyo

Ah Tokyo

You call me up in the middle of the night
When the air is thick with neon light
Let's take a walk through the city tonight
Coz the end is coming baby, alright

Ah Tokyo

Ah Tokyo

Shibuya sleeps like a cat on speed
See the televisions blink in sync
And in the corner an old man sings
Revolution, Help, and Let It Be

Your silhouette looks so good on this street
With the old bus stop and the cherry tree
All of the ghosts take the subway home
As the rain falls down around our feet
