

Lonely Love Song

St. Paul & The Broken Bones

Death ain't what scares me
It's missing all that love that you give me
I spend most of my life proving to the world
I am worth your time

Boring love and now a boring home
Boring bed and now a boring song
Boring yard, boring dog
I don't care as long as I am bored
With you in my arms

Death is what scares me
Missing all that love that I give you
I spend most my nights running from the fear
I just might die

Boring love and now a boring home
Boring bed and now a boring song
Boring yard, boring dog
I don't care as long as I am bored
With you in my arms
Death will someday take me
Hope I live a life worth taking
Bored with you makes me right
I wish we could be bored all the time
I wish we could be bored all the time
I wish we could be bored all the time