

Moon dust stuck inside the air I breathe
Jagged mountains with no harmony
Where, where oh where oh where, did you go?
Rocket fuel and I just left [?]

And there ain't no reason I shouldn't hang on
I can't let you go

Cactus kisses with the taste of blood
Findin' lead where there is only mud
Dare, dare oh dare oh dare, me not to tell
DNA always leaves a trail

And there ain't no reason that I should've held on
I can't let you go
And ships slowly baying tryin' to find their way home
But there's nowhere to go

And there ain't no reason that I should've held on
I can't let you go (I can't let you go)
And ships slowly baying tryin' to find their way home
(I can't find my way home)
But there's nowhere to go

And there ain't no reason that I should've held on
I can't let you go
And ships slowly baying tryin' to find their way home
There's nowhere to go
