

Ghost

Stabbing Westward

It's lonely in the house we've built together
I swear you haven't noticed me for years
Will this isolation last forever
'Cause I feel like I could soon just disappear

Am I fading?

Am I fading?

I'm just a ghost trapped in these memories
I'm just a ghost trapped in the wreckage of our life
I'm just a ghost that you've abandoned
I'm just a ghost who haunts the life you've left behind
I'm just a ghost now

When I walk in a room you look right through me
I'm invisible unless I'm in the way.
I can't remember how it felt to touch you
Without you violently pulling away

Am I fading?

Feels like I'm fading

I'm just a ghost trapped in these memories
I'm just a ghost trapped in the wreckage of our life
I'm just a ghost that you've abandoned
I'm just a ghost who haunts the life you've left behind
I'm just a ghost now

I keep walking through the walls you've built between us
But I can't find a way to knock them down
I'm standing right in front of you and screaming
But you can't seem to hear a single sound

Am I crazy?

I think I'm going crazy

I'm just a ghost trapped in these memories
I'm just a ghost trapped in the wreckage of our life
I'm just a ghost that you've abandoned
I'm just a ghost who haunts the life you've left behind
I'm just a ghost
I'm just a ghost
I'm just a ghost
I'm just a ghost
