When I was a young boy
I was honest and I had more self control
If I was tempted I would Then when I got older I began to lie to get exactly what I wanted when I wan ted it
And I wanted it
Now I'm having trouble differentiating between what I want and what I need t o make me
Нарру
So instead of thinking I just act before I have a chance to contemplate the consequence of Action
And I will turn off
And I will shut down
Burying the voices of my conscience hitting ground
And I will turn off
And I will shut down
The chemicals are restless in my head
Cause I lie
Not because I want to
But I seem to need to all the time (need to all the time)
Yeah I lie
And I don't even know it Maybe this is all a part of my Flawed design
And ever since I figured out that I could control other people
I've had trouble sleeping with both Eyes closed
And if I ask permission if I make sure it's ok I promise I won't slip up thi s time you can
But never take advice from someone who just admitted to being devious and ju st confessed to Treason
And I would also never ask a question that I cannot ask myself for it might dirty up your Conscience
Cause I lie
Not because I want to
Yeah I lie
And I don't even know it
Maybe this is all a part of my (flawed design)
And how can you say those things why can't you just believe
And how can you say those things and keep a straight face
And how can you say those things why can't we just believe
And how can you say those things and keep a straight face
And I will turn off
And I will shut down
