

Maybe I Won't Look Back

Stacie Orrico

I woke up from dreaming
I dreamed I got a call from a friend of mine, she sounded really lonely
But I had somewhere to be
I said I'll call you later
'Cause I really had to go, I can't be late, she'll be okay, this is important
Then I forgot completely

You can be who you choose to be
But whether you do, or whether you don't
Depends on your priorities
And I know that it's not easy

I'm looking for the peace to find some sleep tonight
'Cause I'm
Not very proud of the way I have lived today
But if I choose to
Follow Him along the way
Then maybe I won't look back
Feel like time has gone and passed me by
Then maybe I won't look back

On those days I could have said something
In those times when help was needed I was busy
Was it worth it, no I don't think so, Cause now I see the moment is gone
In some way I could have done something
A thoughtful word a simple smile but I was selfish,
But if I change my heart today, tomorrow it may be okay
And maybe I won't look back

I woke up from a nightmare
Where I was talking down this street, invisible and no one else could see me
All my chances were gone
I can't get your attention
I've had many things to say, but never tried, afraid you wouldn't listen
Should of done it all differently

You can be who you choose to be
But whether you do, or whether you don't
Depends on your priorities
Lord help me to choose them wisely

I'm looking for the peace to find some sleep tonight
'Cause I'm
Not very proud of the way I have lived today
But if I choose to
Follow Him along the way
Then maybe I won't look back
Feel like time has gone and passed me by
Then maybe I won't look back

On those days I could have said something
In those times when help was needed I was busy
Was it worth it, no I don't think so, Cause now I see the moment is gone
In some way I could have done something
A thoughtful word a simple smile but I was selfish,
But if I change my heart today, tomorrow it may be okay

And maybe I won't look back

I can't hold back, I can't be shy
This is my big chance to be living the life, I gotta
Stand up strong and take the ride
Throw all those useless excuses aside
So much to do, I got a lot to say
I don't always understand but I'll follow anyway
'Cause there is a bigger plan, a destiny
I can't waste this precious time

I'm looking for the peace to find some sleep tonight
'Cause I'm
Not very proud of the way I have lived today
But if I choose to
Follow Him along the way
Then maybe I won't look back
Feel like time has gone and passed me by
Then maybe I won't look back

On those days I could have said something
In those times when help was needed I was busy
Was it worth it, no I don't think so, Cause now I see the moment is gone
In some way I could have done something
A thoughtful word a simple smile but I was selfish,
But if I change my heart today, tomorrow it may be okay
And maybe I won't look back

Then maybe I won't look back (2x)
