

To Be Loved

Stacy Barthe

You make me remember who I am
It's easy to forget in a world where no one seems to be sure anymore
I find a certainty when I look into your eyes
The trusting eye ever seen on a man

Let's just say she got a rhythm with a rhythm with a rhythm
With a with a dead part of me
And I'm dancing again

There's nothing more I rather be
Than to be loved, loved by you
I don't know nothing, nothing more
Than to be loved, loved by you
That's all I never know
That's all I never know
That's all I'll ever know

You make impossible so possible
With you I feel like I can move mountains
I searched around high and low
You just don't come close to anything I ever know

Let's just say she got a rhythm with a rhythm with a rhythm
With a with a dead side of me
And I'm dancing again

There's nothing more I rather be
Than to be loved, loved by you
I don't know nothing, nothing more
Than to be loved, loved by you
That's all I never know
That's all I never know
That's all I'll ever know

There's nothing more I rather be
Than to be loved, loved by you
I don't know nothing, nothing more
Than to be loved, loved by you
That's all I never know
That's all I never know
That's all I'll ever know

There's nothing more I rather be
Than to be loved, loved by you
I don't know nothing, nothing more
Than to be loved, loved by you
That's all I never know
That's all I never know
That's all I'll ever know
