

Human

Stalley

It's kinda hard to explain because the love comes with the pain
You can't predict the weather, it's like the sunshine with the rain
And sometimes it hurts but that's to let you know you're human
And sometimes it hurts but that's the fall of grain

(Correct)

I had to bounce back like a round ball
Had to get the fuck from 'round y'all
Why everybody talkin' down for?
Evil niggas prayin' on my downfall
I'm a king and they wanna knock my crown off
Dethrone me and throw me up in the town morgue
'Cause I can't be phony, my name I cannot forge
Throw my soul to the fire, something I can't afford
No price on these raps, these words cost much more
Love cost not a penny so I why the hating for?
Investing all ya time in the negative
Why ya mind in hell, I'm tryin' to find where heavens is No settlements with niggas who try to play you on some devil ish
Keep my mind leveled amongst hotheads and server ish
Stay away from revengeful thoughts, that's such a cold dish
Rather stay positive with good vibes when loves the motive

It's kinda hard to explain because the love comes with the pain
You can't predict the weather, it's like the sunshine with the rain
And sometimes it hurts but that's to let you know you're human
And sometimes it hurts but that's the fall of grain

Misery loves company, idle time is the devil's workshop
So I stay busy as a bumble bee around the clock
Non-stop writin' to enlighten all these dark thoughts
Therapeutic, the music, I use it as a restart
Life's hard, tryna live the best way and beat odds
The oddball of the power circle who had to leapfrog
Suckers I don't speak for 'cause suckers they don't speak p
Bump bein' held down these niggas gat me, fucked up
A king I is, I am man, I am not the music biz
Don't confuse the two, I am too intense
Can't compare me to no other rappers, one and two don't fit
Like rain with the sunshine, if it cost my soul then I don't mine
The fame that is, forget that bein' famous ish
I came for payments so I can feed my kids
Only thing on my mind 'cause ain't no friends
They all pretend to back you up until ya back cave in
And that's real

It's kinda hard to explain because the love comes with the pain
You can't predict the weather, it's like the sunshine with the rain
And sometimes it hurts but that's to let you know you're human
And sometimes it hurts but that's the fall of grain

It's kinda hard to explain because the love comes with the pain
You can't predict the weather, it's like the sunshine with the rain
And sometimes it hurts but that's to let you know you're human
And sometimes it hurts but that's the fall of grain