

Human

Stan Walker

Where do I start
I'm trying not to fall apart
I'm fighting myself
I need some help

It's ok not to be ok
Cause what ya feeling I can see it, it's a feeling that'll go a way
I know it gets hard sometimes but hold on don't let go

You know life I know can be hard
And it might seem much easier in the dark
But there's a better way
You gotta know who you are

You're only human, you can
Fall far from grace, wear mask on your face
You're just human, you can call me on the phone, cause ya not alone

Don't be fooled by my smile
Inside its all ruins
These walls that stood tall
They have crumbled to the ground

Ya gotta know where ya been
To know where ya going
Sometimes may fall, get back up that's not all
You got more to give
Don't be hard on yourself
Hold on, don't let go

You know life I know can be hard
And it might seem much easier in the dark
I won't let u forget who are
There's a better way
You gotta know who you are

You're only human, you can
Fall far from grace, wear mask on your face
You're just human, you can call me on the phone, cause ya not alone
We're all just human you can
Speak what's on your mind, nothing but love I got the time
Human, we can, stay here on the phone
We are not alone
