

Hurricane

Stan Walker

You don't wanna talk about it
You say everything's okay
But I know when you're unhappy
It's written on your face
Remember when I told ya
That I'll be there for you
And if it all goes bad, it'll be okay

He swore he'd never break your heart
But, girl, he's been lying to ya

Here comes the hurricane
I'm here to take you back
Just like a freight train
I'm flying off the track
I'm burning like the sun
The worst is yet to come
I'm like a time bomb
I'm 'bout to explode

'Cause you were made for loving me, babe
And I was made for loving you
'Cause you were made for loving me, babe
And I was made for loving you

Every time that you're together
You'd always end up crying
And no matter what he's told ya
You're way too good for him
If it all goes bad, it'll be okay

He swore he'd never break your heart
But, girl, he's been lying to ya

Here comes the hurricane
I'm here to take you back
Just like a freight train
I'm flying off the track
I'm burning like the sun
The worst is yet to come
I'm like a time bomb
I'm 'bout to explode

'Cause you were made for loving me, babe
And I was made for loving you
'Cause you were made for loving me, babe
And I was made for loving you

Listen, you know you gotta love me
'Cause I need you
'Cause, baby, I love you
Baby, you need me, yeah, yeah

Here comes the hurricane

I'm burning like the sun
The worst is yet to come
I'm like a time bomb

'Cause you were made for loving me, babe
And I was made for loving you
'Cause you were made for loving me, babe
And I was made for loving you

'Cause, baby, I love you
Baby, you need me, yeah, yeah
