Inventing Myself

Stan Walker

I don't mind if I never see you again
Nobody missed you under all that pretence
Save your goodbyes to say to somebody else's eyes
I'm inventing myself

Watch as I go and bring myself back to life
Nobody noticed we were ending the line
I won't deny we had a hell of a time
But it's time

I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
Not pretending to be someone else
I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
Not pretending to be someone else
I'm inventing myself

Keeping it tight and keeping up with my beat
The wrong and the right, and all that's left inbetween
I'mma uncover what's been waiting to discover
I'm taking my dreams off the shelf

I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
Not pretending to be someone else
I'm inventing myself

Am I making sense
Or am I just talking to myself
I'm done with pretend
When who I am is someone else
I don't mind if I never see me again

I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
Not pretending to be someone else
I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
I'm inventing myself
Not pretending to be someone else
I'm inventing myself
Inventing myself
