

Spring Rain

Stand High Patrol

Lightning, thunder and rain in my brain
Green grass, blossom and leaves on a tree
Those smells so familiar, shades are more then millions
Blooming time, sun till night
Spring makes turn my mind

In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go

Our days will be bright if we stand by
Over the falling rain there's a ray of light
Waiting for the shower to stop
Sitted quietly on a porch
Budding love, latent heat
Cycles must repeat

In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
In a continuous flow of come and go come and go
Come and go, come and go
Come and go
Come and go
Come and go
