

Bombay

Stanfour

Kicking, lying at your feet
I can smell the hot concrete
A feeling like you know my name
Your heart is bribing me again

I'm following the siren's song
Oh, this is where I belong
The hills snagging up my soul
You're beating me to the goal

Oh, the light is changing now
Another one is gone
Get your fix just down the boulevard

I'm burning midnight oil right now
Call another round
Something's in your way that lifts me up and pulls me down
I feel like I am dancing to your song
All night long

You're pulling me to the core
Broken dreams washed ashore
Growing in your big dark shade
Infatuation has a name

Marching down the street of need
You got me on a tight, tight leash
Starving souls on the floor
I can hear them call for more

Oh, the light is changing now
Another one is gone
Get your fix just down the boulevard

I'm burning midnight oil right now
Call another round
Something's in your way that lifts me up and pulls me down
I feel like I am dancing to your song
All night long

Oh, the light is changing now
Another one is gone
Get your fix just down the boulevard

I'm burning midnight oil right now
Call another round
Something's in your way that lifts me up and pulls me down
I feel like I am dancing to your song
Oh, something's in your way that lifts me up and pulls me down
I feel like I am dancing to your song
I feel like I'm dancing to your song
I feel like I am dancing to your song
To your song
