

It's Alive, She's Alive, We're Alive

Star One

Man is declining, man is dying out generation of despair man has no future, man is crying out echoes in the empty air

Mother Nature's striking back, protecting her domain the last generation fades away we're the generation of despair but we must not give up hope, for man can be revived it's alive, she's alive, we're alive!

Man surrenders, man is giving in our world is breaking down man has no tomorrow, man has died within this is our final hour

Mother Nature's changing course, preserving her own home the last generation's on its own
we're the generation of despair but we can't give in to failure, man can still survive it's alive, she's alive, we're alive!
