

Tokyo

Starbenders

Way down deep underwater
Covered in ice, covered in ice
Told lies like my father, kept cold and now I pay the price
I can hear your laughter
Calling from above
Help me break this curse now, come to me love

Shots ring out in the night
From the shadows on the streets of Tokyo
Found God in the midnight hour on my radio
Shots ring out in the night
From the shadows on the streets of Tokyo
Found God in the midnight hour on my radio

Twilight in the garden
Turned to stone, turned to stone
Eyes that soon will darken
Set loose and doomed to roam
Light leaks from the windows
People holding hands
Haunted by their footsteps
Do you know who I am?

Shots ring out in the night
From the shadows on the streets of Tokyo
Found God in the midnight hour on my radio
Shots ring out in the night
From the shadows on the streets of Tokyo
Found God in the midnight hour on my radio

Don't you want me?
Don't you need me?
Don't you, don't you want me?

Shots ring out in the night
From the shadows on the streets of Tokyo
Found God in the midnight hour on my radio
Shots ring out in the night
From the shadows on the streets of Tokyo
Found God in the midnight hour on my radio
