

Declaration Of Dependence

Starfield

This is my heart's condition
This world has ammunition
To tear me down
And steal my life away

I know there's more than this
More than temptations kiss
So lift me up
And give me strength to stand

I will live
I will live for you

I've had a revelation
This is my declaration

More of You, oh God, and less of me

'Cause You are my new existence
I offer no resistance
I'm running to the One I know I need

How could I walk away
How could I walk away
How could I walk away

I'll never walk away from You...
