

If

Starlito

Yeah

I never felt it, but I'm cravin' your touch
We might do best as a crush
'Cause I know me, I'm always messin' stuff up
Tryna keep myself from expectin' so much
Nothin' left to do, I guess I'll grow up, you know what?
I ain't gotta have sex with you (I don't want to), it's still intimate
No forced feelings through the physical, just real friendship
You got my attention, it's tension and pure intention
Well, obviously there's attraction, but actually, it's more mentally
I like you, exclamation point if it's in a sentence
Want you real bad (Real bad), put that in parentheses
Conversin' for hours just like teens on a house phone
Don't stare at me too long, we might reach a new milestone

If I could love you, touch you, trust you
But all the same from my view, what could I offer you?
They say careful what you ask for (Ask for)
Is it crazy of me to want more? (Is it crazy of me to want more?)
But if you chose to know me
To grow with me, then show me

If we take it there, ain't no goin' back, if we don't, my ego intact
If you fill the void where you know I lack, we won't go offtrack
If I listen instead of talkin', most likely, I'll learn somethin'
If I'm missin you this often and wishin' I heard from you
If I'm always on your mind like, like you on mine
Then you shouldn't mind if I offer you a lil' more time
If I'm ever out on my grind, then don't question me like I'm lying
If respect is kept in perspective, my guess is that we'll be fine
And if not or you indifferent, I promise you I ain't trippin'
'Cause we friends first and I been through worse, but I'm changin' for the better
You live and you love and you learn, I came here for the lesson
If "If" was a gift, to wrap it up, I'm thankful for your presence

If I could love you, touch you, trust you
But all the same from my view, what could I offer you?

They say careful what you ask for (Ask for)
Is it crazy of me to want more? ('Cause I don't wanna do too mu ch)
But if you chose to know me
To grow with me, then show me

It was all a dream
