

You're The Reason I Believe In Ghosts

starry cat

A week ago, a huge crate entered my life

I can feel your hands on my chest
And you know I like you the best
In your bed, with your shadow on the wall

You had a dream where everything changed
Nothing was the same
You woke up feeling weird
When I'm in bed at night
Falling out, I know that it's alright
But it's not the same alone

Everything dies, there's no point in trying Sooner or later, love will go
And if it doesn't, I know it will take me so

You had a dream where everything changed
Nothing was the same
You woke up feeling weird
When I'm in bed at night
Falling out, I know that it's alright
But it's not the same alone
