

ECHO

Starset

I used to be divinity
I used to be a god in my mind
Sailing in an Odyssey
I didn't know I was blind
And when every time I set a course into the dark night
You would follow me silently with searchlights

I was only in my mind
You were on the outside waiting
I could feel you all the time
Your voice could save me
And all these Sirens sing for me
But I just wanna hear your melody
I call and I can hear you sing
But oh
It's only my echo
It's only my echo

I thought it was destiny
I was gonna conquer the sky
Then plummet to the ground and be
Anchored by your side
But when every time I found myself upon new heights
I would climb again and Leave you in
The moonlight

I was only in my mind
You were on the outside waiting
I could feel you all the time
Your voice could save me
And all these Sirens sing for me
But I just wanna hear your melody
I call and I can hear you sing
But oh
It's only my echo
It's only my echo

I know life is a journey
So what happened to me?
Tell me—why was I in such a hurry?
I don't know, I don't know

I know life is a journey
But you gave up on me early
Tell me—why were you in such a hurry?
I don't know, I don't know

Show the way cause it's blurry
Show the way and your mercy to me
Nothing there and I'm worried
It's all I know, all I know

I was only in my mind
You were on the outside waiting
I could feel you all the time
Your voice could save me

And all these Sirens sing for me
But I just wanna hear your melody
I call and I can hear you sing
But oh
It's only my echo
It's only my echo