

Vespers

State Faults

The cold crept in the day you left
This shepard's skin won't catch my breath
This silence screams to hold me in
When the sun sleeps I'm alone again
The cold crept in the day you left
This shepard's skin won't catch my breath
This silence screams to hold me in
When the sun sleeps I'm alone again

Maybe I'm a wolf seeking blood in shepard's skin
A lonely heart that breaks when the sky caves in
Make my palms bleed by the cracks in your teeth

Smashing my teeth on concrete
Scraping my knees on these worn dreams
These thoughts weigh infinite like the sands of the sea
Drowning me, drowning me
Smashing my teeth on concrete
Scraping my knees on these worn dreams
These thoughts weigh infinite like the sands of the sea
Drowning me, drowning me

There was no wreckage, no broken bodies
Just the seeds of regret planted on this burning bed
There was no wreckage, no broken bodies
Just the seeds of regret planted on this burning bed
And you'll watch me burn
Maybe I'm a wolf seeking blood in shepard's skin
A lonely heart that breaks when the sky caves in
Maybe I'm a wolf seeking blood in shepard's skin
A lonely heart that breaks when the sky caves in

Alone like the eyes of a wolf whose lost its pack
Alone like the eyes of a wolf
