

crying

Static Dress

I hope you've changed
You've had time to grow
Like the seeds in the backyard
Our love died in the cold

Praying some day, we just won't need it
We're waking up paralyzed just to bleed once more
The wife screams "I can change him"
Pretty lady, we've all been here before

Crying on the big screen
Remembering everything you did to me

I hope you've changed
You've had time to grow
Like the seeds in the backyard
Our love died in the cold

Never had a moment we'd both laugh
At my expense and then you'd retract
Chasing dreams
In my head
I hope you're hearing this
I hope it makes sense

Crying on the big screen
Remembering everything you did to me (Everything you did to me)
Just lie to my face, it was years ago
But you take it all 'cause you lost control
I'm crying on the big screen

Just keep holding on to it
Destroyed innocence in me
Just keep holding on to it
Just keep holding on to it
I can't just let go of it

I hope you've changed
You've had time to grow
Like the seeds in the backyard
Our love died in the cold

Never had a moment we'd both laugh
At my expense and then you'd retract
Chasing dreams
In my head

Crying on the big screen
Remembering everything you did to me
Remembering everything you did
Remembering everything you did
Remembering everything you did to me
