Dead Souls

Static-X

Be with me

Close your eyes

Woke up today
To five thousand dead souls
Trapped in my skin
I'm still unchanged
My mind goes numb
If for only this moment
This moment's priceless
It's just like shame

You want I need we feel the hurt
This dislocation desperation
Wait too long and this pain gets worse
This dislocation desperation

Can you set me free
Would you die for me

Can you set me free
Would you die for me

Turn on the news it's all death and destruction
Lie my head back try to dislocate
I close my eyes I remember the good days
I close my eyes try to forget hate

You want I need we feel the hurt
This dislocation desperation
Wait too long and this pain gets worse
This dislocation desperation

Can you set me free
Would you die for me

Can you set me free
Would you die for me

Desperation
Would you die for me
Desperation
Would you die for me
Desperation
