

Layover

Statik Selektah

This landing's only temporary
We've connected alone
Departed back in February
But now we're closer to home

Are we almost there? Yes I think we are
Time zones change but we know just who we are
Oh oh oh oh
It's time to go

Hey mom, I'm on the road again
Just wanna tell you that I love you like I always did
I'm sorry for late texts and all the calls I missed
It's hard to pay attention when all of my focus is Gone - Just like my flight is I'm trying to reach a level tall as Jordan's height is Despite it, took all of your advice and started writing
Like that time you said there's always silver linings
Every plus has a minus, subtract then I times it
Remember all the times that you and dad fought?
It makes me cry quick
And dad I love you too - I've almost landed
When I touch down you know that I'mma get in touch with you
Just stay over, before I take off from this layover
It's like, yo, just stay over, before I take off from this layover

Are we almost there? Yes I think we are
Time zones change but we know just who we are
Oh oh oh oh
It's time to go

How long? How long? Not long at all
How long? How long? Not long at all

Hey Jar it's me just calling to see how everything is Hope you're doing well, love you bye

Hey Jar it's me, uh, I haven't heard from you and just wonderin g if you got there, ok?
So call me let me know you're there ok? I love you
