Sideways

Stavesacre

When we learned each other's names
You were more than just another face in a crowd of all the same
And we both understood
Narrow was the way
Beset upon by many dangers
Believing come what may
Peace was waiting round the bend

What once was
A simple world
Went sideways and insane
I know that this is more than you've ever had to bear
But you must decide
Who you are
Who you are
Who you were
And who you're gonna be tonight

Let's start tonight

You've heard this all before
It's just that now you are the one who needs a little more
A little hope to pass the test

What once was
A simple world
Went sideways and insane

We both know
There are no words
To change it back again
I know that this is more than you've ever had to bear
But you must decide
Who you are
Who you are
Who you were
And who you're gonna be tonight

What once was
A simple world
Went sideways and insane
We both know
There are no words
To change it back again
I know that this is more than you've ever had to bear
But you must decide
Who you are
Who you are
Who you were
And who you're gonna be tonight

I know that this is more than you've ever had to bear
But you must decide
Who you are
Who you are
Who you were
