Intertwined

Steam Powered Giraffe

We rise on a hard line
Two halves of the same vine
Too dark to define light
Two roads, two paths and your own
You can lead down your own
To find home

Someone they once told me
All of my whole being
All that surrounds me
Is good but brittle when you're alone
So don't leave them alone
It's not their fault

Ooo...

And if it feels right
Take in the new light and
Breathe

And if it feels right
Take in a new light
Breathe

Ooo...

So bring what surrounds you
Your body, your visions, your lies
Completely astounding
To put you right back on your line
Subversively defined, we're intertwined

Ooo...
