

First Dance

Steeleye Span

I'm not your lady of the flowers
I'm not your lady of the sun
I'm not the one you've been looking for
I could never be that one

The snowflakes and the roses
They were the sweetest thing
The power of our attraction
Made my meadows hard to see

It started with a dance
On a starry night like this
Our mystical romance
Promised everlasting bliss

But how could we have known
It would end like this?
With a loving, but frozen kiss

With a loving, but frozen kiss

But now I see right through you
I was blinded at the start
The love that you declared for me
Was love enough to break my heart

It started with a dance
On a starry night like this
Our mystical romance
Promised everlasting bliss
But how could we have known
It would end like this?
With a loving, but frozen kiss
With a loving, but frozen kiss
