

Would You Still Love Me

Stefanie Heinzmann

(I love, I love, I love)

What if I would find a leaking crack
In the roof above my head, one day?
What if I lose everything I own
Lose my job and lose my home, one day?

I know that life can change in just one day
When all I got is love, would that be enough?
'Cause I know the plans I made can go to waste
When all I got is love, would that be enough?

If I showed up at your doorway in the middle of the night
Would you take me in your arms and say, "It's gonna be alright"?
If I told you I got nothing, would you say that's all you need?
Would I be enough for you to love me?

Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give? All I can give

What if all my friends and family
Start to turn their back on me? I know they won't
But what if there is no one left around
I wake up and I'm all on my own?

I know that life can change in just one day
When all I got is love, would that be enough?
'Cause I know the plans I made can go to waste
When all I got is love, would that be enough?

If I showed up at your doorway in the middle of the night
Would you take me in your arms and say, "It's gonna be alright"?
If I told you I got nothing, would you say that's all you need?
Would I be enough for you to love me?

Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give?
Would you still love me, would you still love me
Oh, when all I am is all that I can give? All I can give
