

Dust

Steffany Gretzinger

I am dust, You are God
For I am breathless till You fill my lungs
I'm in need, You're enough
I am helpless till You pick me up

I am depending on Love
The hope of Your promise to us
That we are Your daughters and sons
And gently You're fathering us

You're under my skin, You're in my bones
I can't outrun You no matter where I go
You're not frail, You won't break
You are the life inside everything You've made

I am depending on Love
The hope of Your promise to us
That we are Your daughters and sons
And gently You're fathering us

Where else would I go?
I'm already home
'Cause there's no separating us
I can't get away from Love
There's no separating us
I can't get away from Love!

I am depending on Love
The hope of Your promise to us
That we are Your daughters and sons
And gently You're fathering us
