You're not struggling to hear me
So I'm not striving to be heard
I am sure the One who made me
Is catching every word

When You're this close
I rest my soul
It's effortless
When You're this close

I would fight for Your attention
But Your eyes are fixed on me
I would reach for Your affection
But You've already given it to me

When You're this close
I rest my soul
It's effortless
When You're this close
When You're this close
I can let go
It's effortless
When You're this close

Hold my face if I should wander
If my thoughts are far from home
If my faith is going under
Remind me I am known
Hold my face if I should wander
If my thoughts are far from home
If my faith is going under
Remind me I am known
Remind me I am known

When You're this close
I rest my soul
It's effortless
When You're this close
When You're this close
I can let go
It's effortless
When You're this close
