

Forgive, Forget

Stella Jang

New winter's come
And I am cold
I wanna make it up to you
Do my best to get you back to me

Good time is gone
And I am old
But I still wanna get back to you
Do my best to make you stay with me

Would you forgive
Would you forget
All the wrongs I did

New spring has come
But I'm still cold
Too late to make it up to you
There's no way to get you back to me

I know you're gone
Yes you were old
And I know I can't get back to you
There's no way to make you stay with me

Would you forgive
Would you forget
All the wrongs I did

Oh someday in my future I will join you
Will you be there with open arms
And on that day will I get an answer to my question
Oh love oh love

Would you forgive
Would you forget
