

Dive Into The Pool Of Love

Stephen Bishop

Threw a party in my head, invited my A list
It was a caviar affair, the room was shaking
My heart was pounding
Everyone I knew was there

I started falling, my knees got weak
The band was playing 'James Brown'
I wiped a kiss
From my girlfriend's cheek

She said, "You want me, but you won't jump in
If you wanna learn how to swim"

You gotta dive, you better dive
Dive into the pool of love

Is this a dream
Is this a chemical thing?
I shout to my paramour
Feel like a fish

Out of water on her string
Don't tell me this is my imagination
How do I make it to the shore? And she says

You gotta dive
(It's never what you're thinking of)
(Promise her diamonds from the moon above)
(Go test the water if you're fool enough)

Dive into the pool of love

All my life I walked away from love
Now I think I got it, now I really want it
I do, I wanna dive

You gotta dive, you better dive
Dive into the pool of love
Dive into the pool of love
