

Fooled By Love

Stephen Bishop

Took a little time to get you off my mind
I know you're gonna make it, yes you are
And now you're with your high class friends
But I knew you when

And you don't look different
You don't look different to me, no, no
Tell me, please
What was I thinking of?

Fooled by love
Fooled by love

You changed your hair
Bought lots of nice things to wear
You've got a new boyfriend
Who's gonna introduce you to
His arms around you

But you don't look different, babe
You don't look different to me, no
Got nothing left now but the stars above

Fooled by love
Fooled by love

You came to me when you were lost and lonely
Some guy you knew had turned you inside out
I took you in, made you my one and only
You said our love would never end
Then I saw you out with my best friend

But you don't look different
You don't look different to me, no, no

I learned my lesson now
What was I thinking of?

Fooled by love
Fooled by love

Now you want her, gotta have her
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want to, now you'd like to
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want her, gotta have her
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want to, now you'd like to
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want her, gotta have her
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want to, now you'd like to
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want her, gotta have her
But don't be fooled by love
Now you want to, now you'd like to
But don't be fooled by love
