

Loveless

Stephen Bishop

A sad little valentine girl who lives in a valentine world is waiting to board the train with the loveless

counting the days of her past she's been hoping for someone who'd last patiently standing in line
with the loveless

still she wonders
when love will find her
still she wonders
yes she wonders

how long can she wait?

making her way through the crowd while everyone's talking out loud she's silently walking away
(chorus)

looking for places to go somewhere that nobody knows until she finds someone to love she'll be loveless..
(chorus)
