

All The Time In The World

Stephen Day

Well, I need you to come home soon
'Cause I miss you
You've been out on the run and I'm done wasting time
And I know I should be over you
That's so overdue
But I'd be lying if I said that you weren't on my mind tonight
Is that alright?

Seasons change for good reason babe
Don't you leave me out here in the cold
Go make a list of things
And I'll be the pen and paper
We got all the time in the world

Summer came to keep spring awake
Till she falls asleep
And the long night of winter goes away
And I'm not saying that I've done the same
But something today
Tells me the sun and the flowers are on their way

Seasons change for good reason babe
Don't you leave me out here in the cold
Go make a list of things
And I'll be the pen and paper
We got all the time in the world

And don't you wanna live with the same (same) hope?
That the days (days) days
That if we say so (Say so)
When we say so (Say so)

Seasons change for good reason babe
Don't you leave me out here in the cold
Let's make a list of things
And I'll be the pen and paper
We got all the time in the world (Oooo)
