You Are

Stephen Duffy

You film the dark in Technicolor
And I?ll be wrapped around your finger
If you?ve a lesson you can teach my heart

You rescued me out of a lake
So deep and dark with my mistakes
That I get wet whenever we?re apart

You are more than what I bargained for

You are my guiding star
You are, that?s what you are
You are my Shangri-La
You are, that?s where you are

Did I pretend to crave their souls?
To serve while kissing all their holes
Did I pretend to be their truest friend?

Another string, a bow of sin
My heart, a silent violin
At least you made me tune it in the end

You are more than what I bargained for

You are my guiding star
You are, that?s what you are
You are my Shangri-La
You are, that?s where you are

And if you want to run away for the day
I will stay by your side
But if you want to leave me here
Then my dear, I won?t fear suicide
More than I bargained for

You are my guiding star
You are, that?s what you are
You are my Shangri-La
You are, that?s where you are

You are my guiding star
You are, that?s what you are
You are my Shangri-La
You are, that?s where you are

You are, you are, you are
You are, you are, you are
