

Stitches (Kelly And Jamie Demo)

Stereophonics

When you're falling down
Waves come crashing down
And you sink below all the sounds
From the storm above that's coming down

Oh, after the flood
Oh, here comes the sun

There's a time for love and to feel things
There's a time for us to heal this
And the time is now
Before time runs out
There's a time to run and to fear things
There's a time for us to deal with it
When the timing comes
You'll know what's right

When you're feeling down
Waves come and crash around
And you simply love all the sounds
From the storm above that's coming down

Oh, after the flood
Oh, here comes the sun

There's a time for love and to feel things
There's a time for us to heal this
And the time is now
Before time runs out
There's a time to run and to fear things
There's a time for us to deal with it
When the timing comes
You'll know what's right

Every piece of me
And all the stitches in my skin keep falling out
Every piece of me
And all the stitches in my skin are falling out, out

There's a time for love and to feel things
There's a time for us to heal this
And the time is now
Before time runs out
There's a time to run and to fear things
There's a time for us to deal with it
When the timing comes
You'll know what's right

Yeah, you'll know what's right
Yeah, you'll know what's right
