

Another Letter

Stereoside

Just got in got your note in my hands
It say's you just can't take it
You just can't stand it you're leaving again
The last line is torn from the your letter I wonder just what it said
I can't imagine that you could just leave
With the last word still in your head

One day you'll see you're no better than me
You'll be back again
One day you'll see that it's not only me
You'll be back again

You just walked in got my heart in your hands
But you just can't see me I'm standing here bleeding for you again

One day you'll see you're no better than me
You'll be back again
One day you'll see that it's not only me
You'll be back again

Why can't we work it out - Why can't we talk it out
Got your words in my hands

One day you'll see you're no better than me
You'll be back again
One day you'll see that it's not only me
You'll be back again

You'll be back again

You just got in got my note in your hands
It say's I just can't take it I just can't stand it
I'm leaving just like you did