

Wake Up

Stereoside

so defeated
so depleted
I'm feeling so erased feel so tired
no desire to finish anything

I feel washed up so cut up in nothing today

wake up and find myself a new thing tear down this wall that i've been you've been, we've been building
wake up and find myself a new thing
tear down this wall that i've been
you've been, we've been building

wake up, wake up!

do you ever see the way that I would feel do you have the time to rewind and start all over again? and wake up, wake up, wake up

tear down this wall that i've been
you've been, we've been building
tear down this wall that i've been
you've been, we've been building

wake up, wake up!

tear down this wall that i've been
you've been, we've been building wake up and find yourself a new thing tear down this wall that you've been i've been, we've been building
you've been, we've been building
