

Noble Gas

Steve Aoki

Some people want to go live on Mars, you don't wanna live on Mars

You wanna explore Mars

If we were to discover evidence of life on Mars, it would change the course of human history

It would be like Copernicus, discovering that the Earth goes around the sun

It would be like Galileo, showing that the moon is not a perfect circle

Moon's full of craters

So why would the many other scientific discoveries that humans have made

We found out that atoms hook together to make molecules

Some atoms don't hook together, they don't, they don't interact with other atoms

And these are what we call the noble elements, or the noble gases

You know what the future is? Future is neon

Topic number ten, it's a neon future

It's a neon future
