

The Last Word

Steve Moakler

These days is easy to feel
Like the good guys never win
Like we're going off the rails
And we won't get on again
Like it's just a bunch of chaos
Spinning toward the end
Like it's all been for nothing
Well, let me tell you friend

Love's gonna get the last
Word before the curtain closes
Before it's over and heaven knows it
Love's gonna get the last
Word, the past'll be just that
And love's gonna get the last
Word

It will speak for all the silence
And it will make right what's been wronged
It will give rest to the tired
And it will call the lost ones home
So if you hear the devil laughing
Like you'll never heal the hurt
Well, there's a kingdom coming
I don't know what you heard but

Love's gonna get the last
Word before the curtain closes
Before it's over and heaven knows it
Love's gonna get the last
Word, the past'll be just that
And love's gonna get the last word
The last word

Love's gonna get the last
Word before the curtain closes
Before it's over and heaven knows it
Love's gonna get the last
Word, the past'll be just that
And love's gonna get the last word
The last word
