

Don't Your Mem'ry Ever Sleep at Night

Steve Wariner

It's daybreak and I'm still awake
Another night like the night before
When I get home, I'm not alone
'Cause your memory greets me at the door

I go to bed to get away from my thoughts
But when I want to sleep, your memory just wants to talk

Don't your memory ever sleep at night?
It never lets me out of its sight
It goes from room to room turning on the lights
Don't your memory ever sleep at night?
Don't your memory ever sleep at night?

Your memory keeps reminding me
How good love used to be
Oh, and it keeps me good company
But it don't know when to leave

I go to bed but I know I couldn't rest
'Cause that's when your memory's at its heartbreaking best

Don't your memory ever sleep at night?
It never lets me out of its sight
It goes from room to room turning on the lights
Don't your memory ever sleep at night?
Don't your memory ever sleep at night?

It goes from room to room turning on the lights
Don't your memory ever sleep at night?
Don't your memory ever sleep?
Don't your memory ever sleep?
Don't your memory ever sleep?
