Let Your Love Come Down

Steve Winwood

Some say I know, others say I don't That's alright now What I'm saying every day is that love will find a way That's no lie now When the road's getting tough and you think you've had enough Don't give up now Show the world how you feel, gonna let them know you're real Don't be shy now Let your love come down

Let it flow now Just let it flow now, baby, yeah Let your love come down Come on and show me now Don't hold it back now Oh girl, you got to Let your love come down Let your love come down Let it all go now Let your love come down, baby Let your love come down

Make sure that you're true in everything you do Don't you fake it And when you're caught in the heat and you think it's got you b eat You can take it You got time on your side and this door is open wide You can make it (oh yes we can) It was there from the start, got the power in your heart Don't forsake it

Give your heart, darling, every day Wear your love now, baby, don't hide away Roll it over, don't delay Let's start a new day
