Free

Steven Curtis Chapman

The sun was beating down inside the walls of stone and razor wire As we made our way across the prison yard I felt my heart begin to race as we drew nearer to the place Where they say that death is waiting in the dark The slamming doors of iron echoed through the halls Where despair holds life within its cruel claws But then I met a man whose face seemed so strangely out of place A blinding light of hope was shining in his eyes And with repentance in his voice he told me of his tragic choice That led him to this place where he must pay the price But then his voice grew strong as he began to tell About the One he said had rescued him from hell, he said...

I'm free, yeah, oh, I have been forgiven God's love has taken off my chains and given me these wings And I'm free, yeah, yeah, and the freedom I've been given Is something that not even death can take away from me Because I'm free Jesus set me free

We said a prayer and said goodbye and tears began to fill my eyes As I stepped back out into the blinding sun And even as I drove away I found that I could not escape The way he spoke of what the grace of God had done I thought about how sin had sentenced us to die And how God gave His only Son so you and I could say...

And if the Son has set you free Oh, if the Son has set you free Then you are free indeed Oh, you are really free If the Son has set you free Oh, if the Son has set you free Then you are free, really, really free

Oh, we're free yeah, oh, we have been forgiven God's grace has broken every chain and given us these wings And we're free, yeah, yeah, and the freedom we've been given Is something that not even death can take from you and me Because we're free, yeah, the freedom we've been given Is something that not even death can take away from me Because we're free, oh, we're free We are free, we are free The Son has set us free

If the Son has set you free You are free indeed