

Timing Is Everything

Steven Lee Olsen

The world spins on an axis
7 billion people passing by each other all the time
But you and I caught eyes on a subway
Baby what are the chances
Sliding doors and missed it
Wound up on the platform standing
Next to the prettiest girl on the planet

Timing is everything
Thank God I missed my train
Running late ran straight into you
My divine intervention who knew
That I would fall in love
What a morning rush
Crazy how that pendulum swings
Timing is everything

You didn't want conversation
Headphones in no music playing
Girl you were about to walk away
You dropped your bag
I picked it up I had to say it
Ain't like to me to do this
But it feels so serendipitous
See I missed my train and I just couldn't help up wonder if You wanna cup of coffee, if I'm over stepping stop me
Thank God you started talkin'
Heart was beatin' like a clock yeah

Timing is everything
Thank God I missed my train
Running late ran straight into you
My divine intervention who knew
That I would fall in love
What a morning rush
Crazy how that pendulum swings
Timing is everything

Timing is everything
Timing is everything

Timing is everything
Thank God I missed my train
Running late ran straight into you
My divine intervention who knew
That I would fall in love
What a morning rush
Crazy how that pendulum swings
Timing is everything
Everything
It's everything

Oh, oh
Timing is everything