

Overflow

Steven Malcolm

With failure all around, it's like I can't yet see
The wave of my mistakes come crashing down on me
Yeah and all I've seen in my life is the brokenness in me
Maybe it's me, maybe it's me

Your grace is bigger, drowning every lie inside
Your grace is bigger, pushing out the shame I hide
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow, oh, oh

The lights are coming down, it's been so hard to see
Searching by myself to find you're all I need, yeah
You see me complete when I feel I'm defeated
You were there all along (All along)
You bring the best of me up to the surface
Even through all the storms (All the storms)
Reflection of everything I wanna be
Taking the pieces and making me whole
Taking these chains and you making me free
Taking these chains and you making me free

Your grace is bigger, drowning every lie inside
Your grace is bigger, pushing out the shame I hide
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow, oh, oh

I cannot contain it
I cannot contain it
Everything that's not You
You come in and take it
I cannot contain it
I cannot contain it
Everything that's not You
You come in and take it

Your grace is bigger, drowning every lie inside
Your grace is bigger, pushing out the shame I hide
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow
When you bring your overflow, oh, oh

I cannot contain it
I cannot contain it
Everything that's not You
You come in and take it
I cannot contain it
I cannot contain it
Everything that's not You
You come in and take it
